

UNIVERSITY COURSE ATLAS

ALL COURSES. ALL PROGRAMS. ONE PLACE.

HOW TO: SEARCH THE UNIVERSITY COURSE ATLAS

STEP 1
navigate to atlas.emory.edu

STEP 2
enter search criteria to narrow your results, then click "SEARCH"

PRO TIP
there are two ways you can reset your search:

1. select "RESET FILTERS" on the search panel, or
2. use the "RESET SEARCH" option at the top of the panel you're viewing

The screenshot shows the Emory University Course Atlas interface. On the left is a search panel with filters for Title, Subject, Instructor, Keyword, Term, Chemistry (CHEM), Any Campus, Science, Nature and Technology with Lab, Any Career, and Advanced Search options. The main area displays search results for CHEM 205L, including course details like credit hours, seats, and a description. At the bottom, there is an 'All Sections' table listing different offerings of the course.

Class Nbr	Section #	Type	Campus	Meets	Instructor	Status
1910	1	LAB	ATL	M 8:30a-12:15p; Th 3-3:50p	A. Brathwaite	Open
1911	2	LAB	ATL	M 2:30-3:50p; Th 3-3:50p	A. Brathwaite	Wait List
1912	3	LAB	ATL	M 5:30-8:15p; Th 3-3:50p	A. Brathwaite	Open
1913	4	LAB	ATL	T 2:30-3:50p; Th 3-3:50p	A. Brathwaite	Wait List
1914	5	LAB	ATL	T 5:30-8:15p; Th 3-3:50p	A. Brathwaite	Wait List

STEP 3
view high-level information for courses that match your entered criteria, then view more detail by selecting an offering you're interested in

(NOTE: graduate courses may not have full descriptions or other details available in the Atlas, but you can always reach out to grad programs for more information)

STEP 4
if the course you're viewing is offering multiple sections, you can easily view details for each section by selecting alternative sections from the "All Sections" listing at the bottom of the course detail screen

STEP 5
click on either the calendar icon at the top of your "Search Results" panel or at the bottom of an "All Sections" listing to see a visual representation of when the the courses in these lists are being held

PRO TIP
if a class says it
"Does Not Meet", check the description
to see if it:

1. meets on an irregular pattern
2. meets only for a portion of the term, or
3. has not been assigned a meeting time and/or day yet

An EmoryUP Partnership